

Organizational Memberships for Missionary Communities

Mission is, by its nature, communal. An organizational membership in USCMA provides mission leaders with a wide range of networks to participate in, a robust schedule of programs and services, mission animation, and advocacy among the faithful, faith leaders, bishops, and international Church leaders.

There are three types of organizational memberships – basic, intermediate, and premier. Basic is designed for the emerging missionary community that is just beginning the missionary journey and has, or is considering, one mission. Intermediate is for the missionary community that has two or more active missions. Premier is for the missionary community that has multiple active missions.

| Membership Options   |  |   |

| Benefits – all programs and services for up to five individuals.           | Benefits – all programs and services for up to ten individuals plus one consultation session for the leadership. | Benefits – programs and services for an unlimited number of individuals and a customized program for the community. |

There is a three-step process for becoming an organizational member:

- 1) Complete the form below. USCMA staff will reach out to you to confirm your application, discuss payment options, and introduce you to current activities.
- 2) Identify the faith leaders who will be a part of your organizational membership.
- 3) Attend a new member orientation. One is held each quarter. The next orientation is September 8, 2022, at 2 pm ET. Registration is requested.
