Series Outline

March 21, 2024 at 2pm ET Mission in a Secular Age: Engaging the "Haunted" Individual

Explore how the secular trends of individualization and pluralization in American culture have missiological consequences. Then consider the need for cultivating missionary "curiosity" and evangelical "authenticity" in the practice of engaging others.

April 25, 2024 at 2pm ET Mission in a Technologized Age: Cultivating Sacred Spaces for Deep Discernment

Explore how the secular trends of technologization and differentiation in American culture have missiological consequences. Then consider the need to provide "sacred spaces" for deep discernment and encounter.

May 30, 2024 at 2pm ET Mission in a Polarized Age: Being Pilgrims with the "Other"

Explore how polarization in American culture has missiological consequences. Then consider the need to cultivate a spirituality of "crossing over."

All sessions will be recorded and available through a dedicated webpage for registrants.
